Visiting the Travis Air Museum

Visiting the Travis Air Museum: Anyone with official access to Travis Air Force Base is welcome to come to one of the largest collections of aircraft on the west coast. Unfortunately, due to security restrictions Travis AFB currently does not allow unlimited public access to the Travis Air Museum. The Travis Air Museum can accommodate limited numbers of public visitors depending on the availability of museum escorts. It is highly recommended to call the visitor center at (707) 424-1462 to determine if there are any restrictions to visiting the base and to call the museum at (707) 424-5883 to determine if there will be an escort available. We have a gift shop on site, but no snack bar. The Museum is open from 0900 to 1600 hrs on Tuesday through Saturday. The Museum is closed Sundays, Mondays and on Federal Holidays. If you are required to get a pass to enter Travis AFB, (see Access to Travis AFB) we are sorry, but you are not allowed to use any base restaurant, or facility, not directly supported through the Travis Air Museum, unless you are escorted by someone who has official access. Food is available at several restaurants located outside the main gate. If you wish to bring your own food or cooler with you, we do have a small picnic area available for your use.

Directions to the Travis Air Museum from the Travis Visitors Center

Take left out of Visitors Center parking lot, towards main gate. Go through main gate and then go 5 lights and take right at the C-141, Golden Bear. The Travis Air Museum will be on your left. Pull into parking lot and you may park your vehicle anywhere within the parking area.

Events held at the Travis Air Museum

If you are holding an event requiring space inside the museum please be aware of our limitations. We have an area approximately 80 ft x 35 ft inside; a larger area is available outside. We have about 90 chairs and 8 tables. We have a podium and sound system for your use. Please bring at least 2 AA batteries with you, for the sound system mic. We may not have any additional good batteries at the time of your event if they fail. If you require any additional equipment you will have to provide it yourself.

Please be aware that the Travis Air Museum staff do not set up or tear down event tables, chairs, or equipment. You will need to provide people to set up your event. At the close of your event you are required to break down and clean your area, to include sweeping and mopping. Museum staff will provide all materials for the clean up and must inspect the area prior to release.

Please be advised the Travis Air Museum has no ability for cold storage. Please make other arrangements if you will be having food or beverages at your event.

Tours requiring a Docent

If during your visit you would like a Docent to lead a tour please notify the Travis Air Museum staff at least one week prior to the tour. Tours are provided for groups numbering 10 or more visitors. Groups numbering over 30 may require a second docent or be broken up into smaller groups for multiple back to back tours. Please consider this when you make your reservation. Be advised that our Docents are volunteers and are not subject to our schedule, but volunteer their time to share in the history of the Travis Air Museum. As such a Docent may not be available on the date and time of your choosing. If it is important that you have a Docent led tour, please be prepared to provide alternate dates if needed.

Please provide the number and average age, in your party and time of tour. Be advised that we have special guidelines for student tours, or tours with many small children. Please contact our staff for the specifics. *If you will require base access please read Access to Travis AFB.
